NÉSTOR 'BEBU' GIROLAMI, NEW AMBASSADOR OF CUBE CONTROLS

During today's early hours (Monday), an agreement has been reached between WTCR Honda Factory Driver, Néstor Girolami, and Cube Controls, which presents the 30-year-old Argentine as the new ambassador of the brand.

"It is an honor for me to step up my game together with Cube Controls. As a simracer fan, I always look for the best possible quality and I pay special attention to every little detail in simulators and steering wheels. It is the best way to prepare my WTCR races and I believe that with Cube Controls, I will have the great advantage of being at the closest level of perfection when comparing the performance in the sim with the track duties", Girolami stated.

'Bebu', who lays fourth in the WTCR championship with three wins in 2019, is a regular driver in the simracer world, being part of the Drivex eSports, the simracing arm of Spanish motorsport team Drivex. He usually takes part in iRacing and spends hours in his own professional simulator.

"I raced in the Nürburgring 24 Hours last year together with other professional drivers, and I take part almost daily in simracing. Nowadays, it is very important to have the best equipment at home in order to improve and practice in every circuit. It is a pleasure to be part of the Cube Controls family as its new ambassador. I know with its highest quality items, I will have the best preparation before every race at WTCR, and the best performance in the simracing world", he finished.
